

Celebration of the Arts

International Exhibition in San Martin de los Andes Province Neuquen, Argentina November, 2009

You are invited to join us in the initial Celebration of the Arts in San Martin de los Andes in November, 2009.

CELEBRATION OF THE ARTS is a gathering of various artists that work in different medias to express their individual creativity. Not just so called “artists,” as this celebration is about expressing the creativity that is within all people whether realized or not. We desire for all people to be more comfortable with expression of their inherent creativity, in whatever format that is available to them.

Therefore it is important that different types of art, for example; music, poetry and prose, painting, dance, sculpture etc. to be represented.

We wish to include art by the children Creativity Heals Foundation works with in rural schools and the camp .They are less exposed to the idea of making art. Art serves so many purposes and is often neglected and not appreciated nor encouraged. When young, all ideas are more easily accepted and become a way of life. These works of art are donated to the rural hospitals to bring some sunshine into the lives of the patients.

A CELEBRATION OF THE ARTS!

What does creativity mean to various people? For example, what does it give to those with art in the exhibition? Why do they create? What do the viewers receive? How does art reflect and influence our culture? How can all people participate in creativity? It is our desire to compile a booklet on the exhibiting artists and their work displayed in combination with an “Artist’s Statement,” and a discussion of these ideas.

This is an Exhibition to “teach” by example .Work sold will have a percentage to benefit the Cultural Exhibition Hall and whatever else the artists themselves want to benefit.

Enjoy poetry readings... A dance group, music ensembles, artists working, people off the street participating, lectures ...

Creativity Heals Foundation believes strongly in the Healing Power of Creativity. Our belief that Creativity Heals is but one example of what art can facilitate. Art and Healing will be just on of the categories represented.

Let’s explore, experience and Celebrate the Arts together in this exhibition!
